CHICAGO, January 25 – pH Productions, a Chicago-based improv and comedy theater company, has announced the 3rd Annual pHrenzy Bowl, the most audience participative Super Bowl parody show in Chicago. On the eve of the big game, pH is once again taking one of the biggest events in the sports world and making fun of it.

Join pH as they take pHrenzy, a completely improvised game where the audience decides the entire outcome, and turn it on its ear to create pHrenzy Bowl! The premise for this special event is simple. Two competing teams of players start the show and one by one they are voted out by a series of arbitrary rules and audience votes. At the end of the show only one player will be left standing, making his or her team the champions of pHrenzy Bowl III, and will take home the Vince Lombardi pHrenzy Bowl Trophy. Adding to the action will be a referee, sideline reporters and color commentators. This year's show-stopping Halftime extravaganza will feature a musical salute to the past 5 years of pHrenzy!

pHrenzy Bowl III will be held Saturday, February 3rd at Midnight. Tickets are $10. All pH shows are BYOB and happen at Stage Left Theatre, 3408 N. Sheffield Avenue, in Lakeview/Wrigleyville.

pHamily will be performed at its usual time of 11PM, right before the pHrenzy Bowl. pHamily is an entirely improvised show where the audience creates a family of characters and calls the shots as the cast explores their lives. $10 and BYOB.

pHrenzy pHucked will be preempted, but will resume its open run Saturdays at 12:30AM on February 10.

About pHrenzy

Now in its 5th season, pHrenzy is the original pH show to dazzle audiences. Since its debut in 2002, it has been performed approximately 200 times to date, in 2 countries, in 6 different Chicago comedy theaters and has been featured in the Toronto, Miami and Chicago Improv Festivals. The Chicago Reader calls it "a lot of whip-smart, hopped-up old school fun" and "the most athletic idiocy you'll find on a late night stage in Chicago...HIGHLY RECOMMENDED!"
